

Rustic Beauty

Designed by nature, this stunning architectural wonder is lovingly handcrafted branch by branch and twig by twig by artisans who meticulously craft each apple tree branch chandelier into a rustic work of decorative art. Each tree branch is carefully chosen and trimmed to complement an existing recycled chandelier frame. It is then adorned with the bespoke bulb and tier design choices requested by the buyer.

The possibilities for customization are endless--branches can be painted to match your home decor and decorative accents ranging from mini twinkling lights or hanging crystals and just about any funky bulb or accent style you can conjure up in your wildest decorating dreams.

This versatile lighting creation is equally at home adorning a vaulted loft ceiling, a lake home's low-key dining room, or a dramatic winding staircase in a newly renovated brownstone.

Made to order, a custom branch chandelier is more reasonably priced than one would imagine. You can own one of these delightful handcrafted chandeliers for as little as the gentle starting price of only $500.

Conversation Starter

What is it? It's whatever your wicked and whimsical imagination can conjure up. These beautiful ethereal and artful pendants link to what Nature claims as its own. As a window curtain, the translucent plastic pendants reflect and scatter rays of warm sunlight; beautifully illuminating your interior walls.

Or, use this clever conversation starter to decorate a vacant wall with a curtain of floating candles planted firmly in sand for a seductive setting abundant with mystery and pure magic.

For a greener esthetic experience harness the powers of sun and air by filling the translucent hanging globes with air plants bursting with gorgeous blooms of vivid color.

Special Features

- Create your own bespoke floating art
- Can be used as a light over a bar or table
- Pendants are all removable and can be customized
- Prices begin at $50
